DARING AIR STUNTS PROMISED HERE

PILOTED HUGE SEAPLANE FROM PHILADELPHIA TO BOSTON

FOR MacMILLAN EXPEDITION TO THE NORTH POLE

W. A. Schur, Lieut. Commander R. E. Byrd, Chief Boatman E. E. Reber, and Machinist Mate C. P. Rochette. Lieut. Commander Byrd has been in charge of the navy's arrangements for participation in the expedition. It is likely that the party, which will attempt to reach the North Pole by airplane, will succeed where the Amundsen expedition failed.

Macmillan off On New Arctic Quest for Lost Polar Continent

WISCASSET (Maine), June 20. Commander Donald B. Macmillan, intrepid Arctic explorer, and the greatest scientific polar expedition ever organized started for the frozen north today.

Before the sun sank over this pretty little river town the exploration ships Bowdoin and Peary were out on the broad Atlantic on the Northward dash.

A visit to the North Pole by the air route and discovery of a supposed "lost continent" north of Alaska, 1,000,000 square miles in area, are the two big objectives of the ninth invasion of the far north by the modern vikings.

Uncle Sam's naval aviators with the expedition were fired with renewed zeal to reach the pole first, now that Roald Amundsen and his flyers failed in their flight by a distance of 170 miles because of a shortage of fuel.

Scientists aboard the Bowdoin and Peary centered their attention on the "lost continent" thought to be rich in oil, coals and minerals, fertile with rare vegetation in arctic summer and populated by rabbits, deer, swarms of great rats, sea gulls with red breasts, white falcon, white and blue geese and possibly by human beings unknown.

AIR CONGRESS OF INTEREST TO ARMY MEN

Acrobatic Feats And Specialties And All Stunts Known To Flying Promised

ORIGINAL FEATS EXPECTED
Test Economy Runs To Demonstrate Operation Planned From Various Fields

Angel Brothers, Jimmy and Ed, stunt and acrobatic aviators, will supply most of the thrills for the thousands of people who will witness the big air congress in Richmond next Saturday and Sunday. They have been engaged by the Chamber of Commerce to do some sensational acrobatic work and parachute jumping.

Yesterday afternoon the field was inspected by representatives of the United States Air Mail service and the army aviation service, several planes of both reserve and regular army fliers being on the field. O. C. Richardson has been appointed by Postmaster General Harry New to accept the field for the air mail at the dedication ceremony Saturday afternoon.

Carl F. Wolf, president of the San Joaquin Valley aero association, sent word yesterday to the Richmond Chamber of Commerce that his club had entered six ships in a handicap race from Fresno to Richmond next Saturday. Considerable interest has been evinced from southern quarters in the economy run from Glendale to Richmond during the air congress. Sacramento flyers are also getting lined up for the Sacramento-Richmond handicap. Robert Duke, present holder of the handicap record, has declared his intention of competing.

HONEYMOON SHIP ENTERED.
Among the Glendale entrants is Dr. T. C. Young, who will fly his "Honeymoon Ship." Dr. Young states that ten marriages have been performed in his airplane. Other Glendale aviators who have entered the economy run are: A. S. Hall, publicity director of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce; Carey W. Carr, publisher of the aviation magazine "Ace"; A. L. Olinger treasurer of the Western Aero League; Elliott H. Barrett, Howard L. Wood, secretary of the Western Aero League; Lieutenant J. Rutter and Earle Ovington. Dr. Young is to be announcer of events during the two days of the flying festival.

PROGRAM FOR MEET.
The complete program for the air meet is as follows:
SATURDAY, JUNE 27
9:30 a. m.—Field open for inspection of ships and air port. Commercial flyers permitted to take up passengers.

Portuguese Parade At San Pablo Today To Be Picturesque

A picturesque parade, will march through the streets of San Pablo today bearing many symbols fraught with holy meaning in celebration of St. John's festival, which is one of the time-honored feasts of the people of Portugal.

Pretty Geraldine Silveira, who was queen of the Holy Ghost celebration three weeks ago, will enjoy the exceptional distinction of being also queen of the St. John's festival in the same year. Rev. Father Porta will officiate at high mass.

There will be dancing and refreshments during the afternoon. Everyone is welcome.

China Is Rising Against Foreign Tyranny is Claim Of Leon Trotsky

(By Universal Service)
By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.

BERLIN, June 20.—That China is rising against foreign tyranny just as other nations have rebelled against oppression, that Russia is not stirring up the yellow races against the white as has been charged, and finally, that the sympathies of himself and Soviet Russia are all with the Chinese people in their present revolutionary movement was the statement made by Leon Trotsky in a telegram from Moscow to me today.

It is at once the first authoritative statement that has come from Moscow since the beginning of the Chinese troubles and the first public expression of Trotsky's since his return to Moscow.

His telegram was in response to my request for a statement in answer to a declaration in the Paris press attributed to United States Senator King of Utah. Senator King was quoted as having said in Washington or New York a few days ago that Moscow could be charged with the uprising in China and that Trotsky had told him when visiting Moscow that Russia would stir up the far east against Europe and America.

"Since Senator King declares I told him that the aim of the Soviet Government is to make 'the East rise against Europe and the United States,' I am constrained to say that King is leading the public opinion of this country into error. China needs the European and American technique and culture. By its position the soviet union can be intermediary between China and Europe, but only on the condition of complete equality on both sides."

"It is not true that China is 'rising' against Europe. On the contrary, Europeanization of the country has aroused in the Chinese a feeling of dignity which does not permit them any longer to suffer foreign violence."

"The stormy revolutionary movement in China is caused by the violence of plunderers and not by the soviet union."

"It is understood, of course, that in the present struggle all our sympathies are on the side of the Chinese people. In this revolutionary movement we see the surest pledge of their Europeanization and Americanization."
(Signed) "L. TROTSKY"

GERM SLAYER'S DEFENSE FAILS IN JURY QUIZ

CHICAGO, June 20.—State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, today succeeded in stemming the tide against him in the Shepherd murder trial. He did it through cross examination of witnesses introduced by the defense.

Tonight when court recessed until Monday the jury still had before it testimony indicating that William D. Shepherd might have poisoned William N. McClintock by feeding him typhoid germs. There remained half a dozen important defense witnesses to be examined, including Shepherd himself.

The state's attorney in his brilliant cross examination, appeared to realize that if he expected to hear the jury declare "we find the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment" he will have to produce the

WORST WAR IN HISTORY NEAR, TROOPS GATHER

Most Disastrous Civil War Looms As Chinese Teem in Foreign Resentment

ANTI-STRIKE ORDER VETOED

Thousands of Troops Mobilize for War Against Each Other and Foreigners

(By Universal Service)
Special Cable Dispatch

China's millions were still teeming with anti-foreign sentiment tonight. And in addition there loomed the specter of the most disastrous civil war in years.

The situation in Shanghai, which appeared somewhat promising the last few days, took a turn for the worse today.

Prospects for partially ending the anti-foreign strike in this city, involving 250,000 Chicago, went glimmering when the Chinese Chamber of Commerce rescinded its instructions to call off the strike insofar as it affected shops and banks in the International Settlement.

HARBOR WORK EXPECTED TO GET UNDERWAY

Richmond will begin $25,000 improvement of its inner harbor facing the site of Wharf No. 2 within the next two weeks. The contract for the work will be let to the San Francisco Bridge Company, the lowest bidder on the project by the city. Francis Betts Smith, noted consulting engineer on dock construction, is now preparing the plans for the wharf.

Representative Curry, is encouraged by this demonstration of initiative on the part of the city of Richmond and says that he will have the remaining sum for the harbor appropriation set aside until the harbor engineers of the Pacific Coast pass on the work that is now being done.

Congressman Curry will leave San Francisco next Friday with Secretary Hoover and army and navy officials for the proposed dam site of the Sacramento river, which are planned to conserve California's fresh water supply and to lessen the flood waters of the Sacramento.

Husband and Wife

My wife's hobby is paper lamp shades. Our house looks like a Japanese bazaar.—Mannie R.

WHAT DOES YOUR WIFE DO?

FOUR BUILDINGS RAZED BY FIRE

Four buildings on the rear of the property owned and occupied by A. E. Dewey, Kearney and bush streets, San Pablo, were razed yesterday afternoon destroying four tons of hay three tons of coal and seventy five chickens. The Richmond Fire department Engine 2, Truck 1 of No. 2. Fire station responded to the call at 3:10 p. m.

All of the outbuildings, including a barn, a chicken house and woodsheds were in flames by the time the department arrived. The firemen, handicapped by the total absence of fire protection in the district directed their efforts to the preservation of houses not yet reached by the fire saving the home of Mr. Dewey.

The residence was located outside the city limits. The total damage on the place has not been determined.

Local Merchants Cancel Dinner on Monday Evening

The regular dinner and meeting of the Richmond Merchants Association scheduled for Monday evening has been cancelled so that members of the organization may attend the dinner given by the Richmond chamber of commerce at Max's Inn, Jr. honor of the reserve officers of the three East Bay squadrons that will participate in the air congress. This announcement was made by M. E. Hazleton, vice president of the Merchants association, who is acting as temporary chairman in the absence of President Fred B. LaMoine.

Hydraulic Work May be Resumed In State Mines

SACRAMENTO, June 20.—Declaring that $600,000,000 worth of gold still remains in the gravels of the upper Sierra Nevada mountains, State Mineralogist Root announced today that work under a $10,000 appropriation allowed by the last Legislature will shortly begin to determine the advisability of resuming hydraulic mining activities in California.

Root characterized the suggested plan as highly feasible and expressed the belief that high dams can be constructed on the important streams, keeping mining debris out of the agricultural valleys and serving a second important purpose in augmenting the state flood control system.

The hydraulic mining survey will be conducted by Root and Surveyor General Kingsbury.

DEATH OF S.F. CLUBMAN MAY BE SUICIDE

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Coroner W. A. Brooks of San Mateo County yesterday abruptly halted the inquest on the body of Charles M. Woods, wealthy San Francisco oil magnate and Bohemian club member. Dr. Brooks postponement of the inquest from 10 a. m. yesterday to 10 a. m. Monday came the result of sensational overnight developments which indicated that Woods may have died a suicide, instead of the victim of a murder.

"The inquest is postponed for the purpose of gathering further information by order of Dr. Brooke, are being ment."

Funeral services for Woods were held yesterday afternoon. The body was cremated, and the stomach, and its contents, removed at the autopsy by other of Dr. Brooke, are being analyzed.

With Mrs. Woods still denying herself to interviewers in the seclusion of her home at Palo Alto, it became known that the authorities had tried—unsuccessfully—to obtain a statement from the widow.

"I am beginning to believe that Woods may have killed himself," said Constable S. A. Landini of Daly City, yesterday.

THREE AWAIT NOOSE JULY 10

(By Universal Service)

SACRAMENTO, June 20.—With three condemned murderers awaiting execution on the gallows at Folsom and San Quentin penitentiaries on July 10, a row was brewing at the capitol today over the claims of John R. Holland, Los Angeles attorney, that he was refused an audience with Governor Richardson when he appeared to plead for clemency on the ground that one of these men was under the age of 18 at the time of the murder.

That man, according to Holland, is Lewis A. Perry, who, with Tom Lailley, is under sentence to be hanged at San Quentin. Ed Montijo, third of the trio convicted of slaying Police man Glenn E. Bond of Los Angeles during an attempted bank robbery last year, is to be executed at Folsom.

Holland said the Bond murder took place February 20, 1924, and Perry did not reach his eighteenth birthday until March, 1924. The attorney indicated there is also some question as to Montijo's age.

"Human life is a sacred thing," asserted Holland. "I should not care to occupy Governor Richardson's position in refusing to listen to evidence presented in behalf of these boys. Such an attitude is brutal and abhorrent to anyone with a sense of justice."

Fletcher Bowren, the Governor's executive secretary, countered, however, with the claim that Holland apparently had no new evidence to present in the matter. He said he did not call the attorney's visit to the attention of the Governor for that reason.

Schrader Driver Loses Measuring Straight Edge Rod

While delivering linoleum and other household furnishings yesterday, a driver for the L. H. Schrader Furniture Company lost a hardwood straight edge, size about 7-8 by 4 inches by 7 feet long. Presumably, according to the report, the instrument fell out of the delivery wagon. Any one finding same is requested to return it to the L. H. Schrader company where it is used for measuring linoleum.

Crescent City—Construction begun on Del Norte county bank to cost $50,000.

Fined For Failure To Clear Streets

A Coleman, truck driver, was fined $10 yesterday by Judge C. A. Odell, for failing to keep his truck to the curb while the Richmond Fire Department was responding to an alarm. One of the fire trucks, according to the testimony of Fire Chief W. P. Cooper, had to jam brakes to avoid collision.

COUNCILMAN RETURNS

Councilman W. L. Lane returned to Richmond yesterday after a short visit to San Luis Obispo and Monterey counties. Mr. Lane took his son to the San Luis mountains where he will spend the school vacation.

SAN FRANCISCO GIRL WITH TROPHY PRESENTED BY LIPTON FOR 4,000 MILE YACHT RACE ACROSS PACIFIC

Miss Mildred Heston is shown here holding the trophy presented by Sir Thomas Lipton for the winner of the 4,000 mile race across the Pacific to Tahiti.

WHERE IT STARTED THE LETTER "J"

It was not till the sixteenth century that "J" became a separate letter. Formerly the letter "I" was always used, as in the Latin, and this caused much confusion. The first of giving the letter a curl at the bottom originated with the French printers; the letter was first printed, however, at Paris, by Gilles Gressart, in 1550.

JOURNAL

The origin of the word "journal" is peculiar. It is derived from the Latin "diurnal," meaning "day." The progress of its derivation is thus made clear: diurnal; then into the Italian, with the "d" softened to "r"—giornale; then into French with the same sound but different jear; with the last syllable added by the English, we arrive at "journal," a daily record of events.

For all stomach and intestinal troubles and disturbances due to teething, there is nothing better than a safe Infant's and Children's Laxative.

How To Be Healthy

By JOHN W. DEEMING, Director of Physical Education of the Y. M. C. A.

We will suppose that a man desires to bring about a certain result, if strong-willed in other words possessed of intense power of concentration, he will train the invisible force on the desired result (which he will call an objective). He has boundless confidence in himself, and never doubts for a moment, but that he will win his end. None of the energy is wasted. This is the working of a carefully trained mind, a developed and directed force. This result is that he gets what he wants. If weak-willed, in other words with poor powers of concentration, he endeavors to train the invisible force on the desired result, he has no confidence in himself and doubts all the time that he will win what he desires. The force expended is lost under proper control and is therefore wasted energy. Result of this is failure.

From the above, several most important points are brought home to our minds, and simple though they may be they contain the secret of success.

First, to succeed in all our endeavors, whether we are attempting to develop the physique, to get rid of some troublesome complaint such as insomnia, nervousness, etc., or in ordinary business ventures we must have confidence.

Second, we must have control over the thought force and nervous energy (after, of course, having first acquired or developed same).

The only difficulty to contend with in training the will, in bringing it to bear in every day matters, and with that we are mostly concerned, namely the cult of the physique, is that for a time, the force we are attempting to develop and control seems so intangible, but if you will only persevere and have confidence, all difficulties will be overcome.

A very simple exercise which may be adopted as an aid to development of concentration powers is to stand opposite a mirror with the light so adjusted that it falls on your face, and look yourself in the eye fixedly for a minute or two, exclude all ideas from your mind other than the one of staring steadily without allowing your mind to become engaged

PUTTING up fruit is rather an odd expression when one comes to think of it. What would an intelligent foreigner make of it?

Would they think that we were talking of arranging fruit on high shelves, or putting up fruit where it could not be easily reached by greedy hands? Even to us familiar with our own idiom, it is not a very definite statement. Putting up fruit is a matter of fact, may mean canning, preserving, or the making of jams and jellies. Canning is properly preserving the fruit as whole as possible and using as little sugar in the process as will suffice to keep the fruit from spoiling. Preserving fruit means cooking the fruit with much more sugar and making a much richer delicacy of it. Jams are often made of fruit which is not perfect enough for either canning or preserving, but these jams may be often the most useful and desirable addition to the pantry shelves.

As to methods of canning fruit there has come up, of late years, a diversity of opinion. Some housewives use a method by which the fruit is packed raw in glass jars and cooked without further handling. This method is naturally satisfactory to the cook who is willing to take infinite pains that all the operations shall be carried on at specified rates of temperature and exact lengths of time. It may be called a laboratory method. But probably the majority of women still adhere to the old established procedure which calls for direct cooking before placing in the jars. Preserving can only be done in this method, and jams the same, only more so.

Be Prepared with the Right Utensils

It is well to be prepared for the summer campaign of putting up fruit so that when a bargain appears in the market it can be utilized at once. Three sizes of enameled ware preserving kettles will be found not only useful, but more economical. A large size for the large fruit, a medium size for berries, and a smaller size for the spiced conserves, or for making fruit juices. An enameled ware ladle, skimmer and two long spoons are indispensable adjuncts. An enameled ware colander will also be found to be most useful. Enameled ware has, of course, very obvious advantages in preserving work. Its porcelain-like surface makes dainty cooking easy and its metal foundation makes it possible to keep the fruit cooking as long as possible at an even temperature.

Among the earlier fruits which should receive attention are cherries. These make a very pretty as well as delicious preserve. Two varieties of cherries are most frequently used. Perhaps the most popular is the acid Morello cherry, which comes rather late in the cherry season. To preserve these cherries, stem them, wash carefully, then put in an enameled ware preserving kettle and let them stand over night. In the morning enough juice will have collected in the cherries may be trusted to cook themselves without scorching. In enameled ware the cherries will not be darkened by any action of the acid on the kettle. Cook the cherries until thoroughly soft and then add granulated sugar in the proportion of one scant cup of sugar to one heaping cup of the cooked cherries. Let all cook up again, coming to a quick boil, and put at once into jars. If the dark cherries are used instead of the Morello, use the same method, but half the amount of sugar will be sufficient. For cherry jam, stone the cherries and cook very slowly in an enameled ware preserving kettle until all is a smooth paste. Add sugar in proportion of half a cup of sugar to one cup of the cooked fruit. One good thing about jam is that different flavors may be combined. Raspberries and cherries come at the same time and a jam half raspberries and half cherries will be found very nice and quite a change.

Raspberry jam by itself is an old standby. Put the raspberries, well sprinkled with granulated sugar, in a preserving kettle over night. Cook slowly the next day until the jam is thick. Add sugar in the proportion of half a cup to a cup of berries. If currants are added to raspberry jam, increase the quantity of sugar used. Spiced currants make a very acceptable relish with meat. Stem and wash the currants and cook quickly. Let all boil up and skim with an enameled ware skimmer. Replace on the stove, add sugar in the proportion of one-fourth of a cup of sugar to one of the cooked fruit, add also a tablespoonful of whole cloves, a couple of sticks of broken cinnamon, and a few allspice, to each quart of the spiced currants. Let all cook gently for fifteen minutes. Pour into jars and seal while very hot.

Blackberries make a very good jam, though some people object to the seeds. Try mixing, in equal parts, blackberries and blueberries. Put the berries into an enameled ware preserving kettle, cover with sugar and let stand all night. After the berries are heated through on the stove, so much juice will collect that it is well to remove some of it. Skim carefully, take out the fruit from scorching. This juice should be put into the smallest enameled ware preserving kettle brought to a boil, skimmed carefully, boiled again and sugar added in the proportion of one cup of sugar to one of the juice. Let all boil again and put in either jars or bottles. This juice will be found very nice for pudding sauce and can also be used to color icings and such like decorative objects. When the blackberries and blueberries are cooked into a thick jam, add sugar in the proportion of half a cup of sugar to a cup of the cooked fruit. This jam is particularly good as a filling for tarts or fruit pies in winter.

A Delicious Watermelon Recipe

While on the subject of sweet pickles, watermelon rind makes a very rich and delicate sweet pickle. Cut the rind into pieces convenient for packing in jars. Prepare the vinegar as for the pickled peaches, except add to the sugar two tablespoonfuls of clove, two or three sticks of cinnamon, a few allspice and a tablespoonful of mace. When all this has boiled together add the watermelon rind and cook gently until thoroughly soft. All these sweet pickles keep better if they are brought to a boil for a final time just before placing in the jars. These suggestions bring the housewife along to the latter end of the summer, and pears and quinces, green tomatoes and others are still to be dealt with, but these are, as Kipling would say, "another story" for another day.

"Hello Hawaii" is Musical Revue At the California

An entertaining vaudeville revue, entitled "Hello, Hawaii," presented by Willis West and Co. of eleven artists will be the outstanding attraction at the California theatre today.

This snappy thirty minutes of song, dialogue and dance is splendidly routine with the dainty chorus and principals wearing a series of pretty costumes, the last word in stage attire.

The very latest song hits are interpolated including "Yearning," "Hoddy," "Beside a Silvery Stream," "Ships That Never Come In" and several specially written comedy numbers for the male principals.

Miss Estelle La Pierre, Miss Marylin Hammond with Messrs. West and Smith carry the comedy end of the revue and there is much to laugh at in the light music and funny situations.

A special stage setting affords the necessary atmosphere for the story. Comedy nonsense is supplied by Bogart and Mitchell. Miss Mitchell is a diminutive comedienne and her partner an elongated comedy dispenser with a fund of merry songs.

Unique Situation Revealed in Film At the Richmond

"Why Men Leave Home," a First National picture, produced by John M. Stahl, which is now the feature at the Richmond theatre, contains one of the most unusual and unique situations ever conceived in the brain of a writer. The credit for it goes to Avery Hopwood, the author of this play, which ran for more than a year on Broadway.

John Emerson, the leading character in the play, finds himself quarantined with his divorced wife in his mother-in-law's home, but a few hours after his remarriage to his stenographer. His former wife and stories.

Hecker and Davis in Dance Divertissements offer several eccentric as well as a variety of selections in a likeable manner.

As he is taken to the hospital, his wife bursts in and tells him that she is pregnant. He is shocked and tries to get out of the hospital, but she is determined to stay. The story is a comedy of many laughs.

Other features on the bill include "High Society" and "Our Gang" comedy; "KinoGrams" like a newspaper.

WHY I CAME TO RICHMOND

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles by prominent Richmond business men giving a brief account of their business careers and reasons why they chose Richmond as the field of their business endeavors.

By E. G. Conn
Proprietor of the Conn Drug Co.,
23rd and Macdonald

I did not come to Richmond. I was brought here by my parents at the age of three. However, if I had not been brought here at the early age when I was learning to wear knickerbockers and mix with the kids around the corner, I would have come of my own accord as soon as I was old enough to use my own judgment, for the city of Richmond, in my estimation, has remarkable industrial possibilities.

I was educated in the Richmond schools, graduating from Richmond high school in 1917. I went to the University of California with the purpose in mind of taking up pharmacy. After studying for a year I joined the army. Later I returned to college and finished my course.

Upon graduating from college I was employed by Mr. Wiedecher who owned a drug store in Point Richmond. Later, when Palmer moved to the store, I continued employment under the new owner for a year and a half.

In the spring of 1924 I moved to my present location at Twenty-third and Macdonald and have stayed here ever since. Business has constantly increased in this section. I look to this part of the town to be the key section of the city of Richmond a few years from now. It has greater possibilities than any other location.

POLITICS BEGIN TO WARM UP FOR COUNTY OFFICE

With the quadrennial election of county officers about one year off, ambitious citizens of Richmond, who would like to enjoy some of the emoluments of public office at Martinez, are beginning to "look around."

One of the best political plums in Contra Costa county is the district attorneyship. The place pays the principal $6,000 a year and gives him a staff of three deputies, not to mention the prestige that goes with the position.

The present district attorney is Archibald B. Tinning, who is rounding out his second term, having been elected without opposition to succeed himself. Tinning is a graduate of Harvard and son of the late W. S. Tinning, a pioneer lawyer and banker.

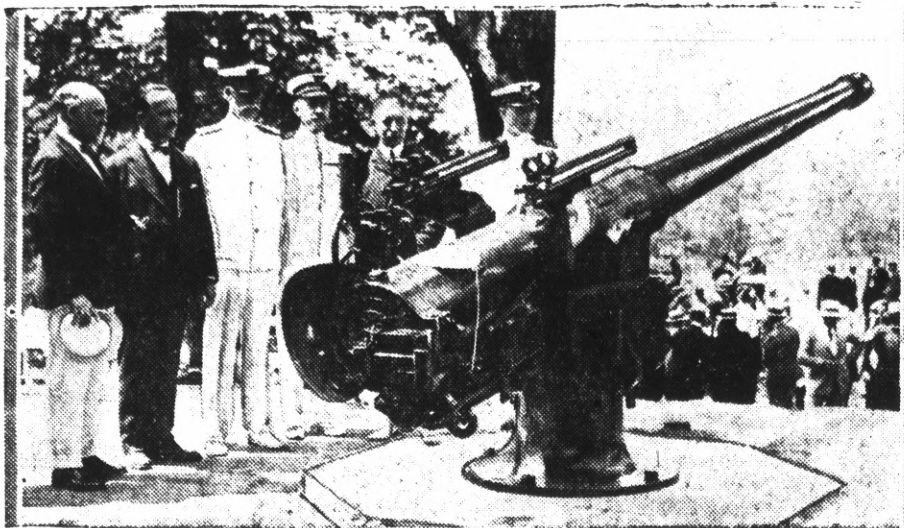

Prominently and frequently mentioned in connection with the office is the name of Hon. T. M. Carlson, Richmond lawyer. Carlson was in the Assembly from Contra Costa county two years ago. Carlson is a graduate of the University of California and saw service in the aviation corps of the United States Army during the World War. It generally is believed in Richmond that Carlson, who has specialized in criminal law, will in due time make his announcement.

Another possible candidate is James F. Hoey, one of the assistants to Tinning. Hoey it is believed, will make the race if his chief declines to run for re-election, but if Tinning becomes a candidate Hoey probably would not run. Hoey is a past grand president of the Native Sons of the Golden West.

Richmond's population is about 30,000 which is almost half the total population of Contra Costa county, yet Richmond has but two county officers, the coroner and the probate officer, and the latter is an appointive officer.

Pacific Coast Ships One Eighth Foreign Tonnage

One eighth of the total cargo tonnage in foreign trade of the nation was handled in Pacific ports in the year 1924, according to the Mercantile Trust Review of the Pacific for June 15. For every ton that the Pacific Coast imported during the year, three tons were exported. This is due to the fact that the Pacific Coast deals mainly in raw materials. Petroleum products and lumber led the list of Pacific exports.

The Pacific Coast had greater export tonnage for the year than either the South Atlantic district or the Great Lakes district, and had greater import tonnage than the South Atlantic district. In all, 11,404,090 long tons of cargo—8,822,011 of exports and 2,582,079 of imports—moved in and out of the harbors of this district.

This preponderance of exports over imports, it is pointed out, is due to the almost exclusive production of raw materials prevalent on the Pacific coast. The fact that more than three tons leave our ports for every ton that is imported together with the fact that many of our ships are of special type only suited for cargo lots, makes shipping unusually costly on the Pacific coast.

trench by bombing planes, artillery, infantry and machine guns, demonstrating methods of communication between planes and artillery, infantry and machine guns in action.

A. L. Paulsen has been placed in charge of ticket sales; Golden L. Downing is chairman of transportation; T. M. Carlson will handle the hotel and rooming question; Hall W. Sanders is in charge of concessions; Frank B. Schumann and E. M. Bates have charge of the program.

REQUEST FOR DEBT PAYMENT IS EFFECTIVE

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Representations by this government to France and Czechoslovakia regarding their debts to the United States are having their effect. It is expected that both countries will begin funding negotiations very soon.

It was learned authoritatively today. Conclusion of a satisfactory arrangement with France would be regarded by officials here as settling one of the most important and vexing foreign problems now confronting the administration. That nation is America's largest debtor, owing $4,213,000,000, and recurring unofficial reports that she was ready to arrange for funding her obligations during the last few years never have resulted in any real action.

Czechoslovakia owes the United States $118,000,000 and funding negotiations are expected to begin not later than similar discussions with the French.

HAWAIIAN AIR FLIGHT STARTS IN SEPTEMBER

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The navy's proposed flight to the Hawaiian islands will start either from San Francisco or San Diego about September 2nd, it was announced at the navy department today.

At the same time Secretary Wilbur definitely rejected a proposal to extend the flight to include the island of Guam, a hop of more than 2,000 miles.

Navy officials connected with the expedition had it known that the general program was being altered to include the extra flight. When informed of the plan Secretary Wilbur said it had not come to his desk as yet but that he was unqualifiedly opposed to the suggestion.

The Secretary also announced that Captain Stanford E. Moses, U. S. N., commander of aircraft squadrons, battle fleet—has been placed in command of the Hawaiian expedition.

Present plans designate the aircraft carrier Langley and the battleship Arizona as station ships for gathering aerological data, forwarding weather reports and relaying dispatches.

They will be stationed at intervals of 600 miles from the starting point in a direct line between the coast and Hawaii.

Six destroyers and two mine sweepers will be used to guard the line of the flight and will take station between the three larger vessels. The destroyers are the Deyan, Farragut, McCawley, William Jones, Meyer, Reno and Mine sweepers Tanager and Whippoorwill.

Admiral Coontz, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, has charge of the plans and arrangements, some of the details of which are yet to be worked out.

With France and Czechoslovakia coming into line, and Great Britain, Finland, Hungary, Lithuania and Poland already having concluded satisfactory arrangements, this government could consider the major part of its debt problem as settled.

Worst War

The Chamber of Commerce is understood to have acted under pressure from the Shanghai student body, which has been active in fomenting anti-foreign feeling.

FOREIGNERS BEAR BRUNT. Violent anti-foreignism is continuing throughout China, according to reports here tonight with the brunt of the feeling being directed against British and Japanese.

Actual reports of violence, however, were lacking. Japanese women in some Chinese cities have been forced to shun their native kimonos and change to American clothes because of the fear of street attacks against them.

The most serious civil war threat tonight centered around Shanghai, with Peking and Canton close in line.

In the Shanghai region the thirty million dollar yearly opium tax appeared to be the prize sought by rival political and military factions. Troops of Chang Teo-lin, Manchurian war lord, continued to pour into Shanghai, completely encircling the foreign settlement.

TROOPS MOBILIZED

Up to tonight it was estimated that eight thousand Manchurian troops were in the Shanghai area, with thousands more enroute.

Reports from Hangchow, capital of the neighboring province of Chekiang indicated that Sun Chuan-fang, military governor of that province, was mobilizing fifty thousand men for an expedition against Shanghai.

Furthermore, it was rumored that Sun Chuan-fang was allied with Feng Yu-shiang, the famous Christian general of China, who is said to be preparing an attack against the central Anfu government in Peking.

General Fong is not feeling any too friendly toward Chang Esso-lin, the Manchurian chieftain, who virtually controls the Peking government through his military cooperation in maintaining Tuan Chi-jui as president of the vast Chinese commonwealth.

MARCHING ON SHANGHAI. No clashes had been reported up to tonight, but it is known that Manchurian troops are within a half mile of the great Lungwa arsenal, near Shanghai.

Occupation of this arsenal by the Manchurians is expected to be the spark that will precipitate all of China in the worst civil war in her history.

Incidentally the Chinese population of Shanghai regard the Manchurian army as a force that will wipe out the foreigners in this area. "The Manchurians have come to cut the throats of the foreigners," is the phrase on thousands of Chinese lips.

In South China the situation appeared calm tonight with the Cantonese forces of the Kuomintang or People's Park attempting to maintain order in that disturbed region.

MONETT MOTOR CO. READY WITH NEW DELIVERIES

Announcement is made by the Monett Motor Company, Inc., 112-118 Macdonald avenue, that they are now prepared to deliver two types of commercial chassis manufactured by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The light delivery weighing 1,500 pounds and the utility express truck weighing about 2,000 lbs. with any type of express or panel body desired. The prices of the chassis are: light delivery, $345; Express truck, $657 delivered in Richmond.

The 83 quality features incorporated in the new 1915 Chevrolet make this truck or delivery much superior to any other within $500 of its price, says Monett. The economy of operation and maintenance, which should be the big factor in any commercial automobile, is unquestionably demonstrated by these machines.

What is the vital thing which determines selection? If it is economy what other car can demonstrate it better? If it is power, there is none with more? Or is it strength? A sturdy five cross member chassis with all moving parts encased in steel housing gives proof of this quality.

Appearance may be the dominating influence, surely the lines of the General Motors Products set the standard in this as in most other Automobile Fashion. They start, the others follow.

One other thing which might determine the selection. Ease of handling in congested traffic. Ease of handling by the greenest amateur is surely the best insurance against accident and loss that a merchant can have. With the new plate disc clutch and the transmission mounted on the fly wheel housing, and the new arrangement of the transmission gears—a child can handle the one truck with ease. Smooth performance from the start of the motor to getting under weight, is not an idle boast, it is a demonstrated fact.

Star Coupster is Sensation in New Motor Production

Enthusiasm, shared in by buyers as well as by members of the Star dealer organization, has been unbounded since the announcement of the Star Coupster. This attractive, two passenger model, that is both an open and an enclosed car through a unique arrangement, proved such a sensation that many Star dealers throughout the Western territory wired the factory expressing their enthusiastic approval of the new addition to the Star car line.

Robert P. Fite, sales manager at the Los Angeles branch, Star Motor Company of California, wired the factory at Oakland:

"New Star Coupster's knockout. Send us fifty more for samples. We can deliver every one of these models we can get our hands on." This wire is just a sample of many received at the factory from dealers of the Western States who are served by the busy plant at Oakland.

When H. W. Curtis, director of branches for the Durant Motor Co. of California, visited the Los Angeles branch a few days after the new Star Coupster had arrived, Fite repeated his plea for more Coupsters, backing up his request with the statement that the demand far exceeded the supply in his territory.

WESLEY WOMEN HOLD FOOD SALE

Sixteen dollars was cleared by the organization. The proceeds of the sale will go to paying the church debt.

Mrs. Downing wishes to thank the California Market for donating space in their store, the members of the church who donated food for the sale, and the public which took such an active interest in the sale.

MOKELUMNE SYSTEM BIDS SET SEPT. 4

OAKLAND June 20 (Special)—Bids for the construction of the whole Mokelumne project, including the Lancha Plana dam and the great aqueduct from the Mokelumne to Oakland, will be opened by the directors of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, September 4, according to resolution adopted by the directors last night.

Plans and specifications of the job were approved by the directors last night. According to President George C. Pardee of the board, the long time elapsing between now and the opening of the bids is necessary because large eastern contractors may be given a chance to bid.

The contract system is not mandatory, according to the directors, and will depend upon the prices and the quality of materials and work submitted by the bidders. If the bids are too high or the working methods too casual, the directors assert, they still have the option of doing the job themselves.

GOETHALS TO BE PRESENT
The consulting engineers of the board, General George W. Goethals, William Mulholland and C. E. Grunsky, will be asked to be present at the opening of the bids to examine them and give their views.

The contractors must build four miles of railway from Valley Spring to the Lancha Plana dam site, and must erect structures for the workmen. This end of the job, from the San Joaquin river to Oakland must be finished first.

All the directors prophesy rapid progress from now on. Preliminary work, they say, can be started as soon as the supreme court validates the Mokelumne bonds.

Vacation Bible School Succeeds

Enrollment this year in the Daily Bible school of the Presbyterian church has proved very satisfactory, attendance being kept up to normal throughout the enrollment. There are two more weeks of vacation school. All boys and girls between the ages of 5 to 12 years are invited to attend. No special church affiliation is required. A school picnic is planned to take place toward the end of the term.

San Francisco—Between 5,000 and 18,000 cars of deciduous fruit, and 700, to 750,000 cars of grapes to be shipped east this season.

Berkeley—Weekly building records broken last week, when total building for week amounted to $500,000.

ALAMEDA SHOP RETURNS TO OLD BARBER CHARGES

While Richmond barbers are debating whether or not to adopt the new scale of prices recently put into effect in Oakland and Alameda, the barber of the tinsorial bina prices in Alameda have just been shattered. Richmond barbers have been trying for weeks to raise the prices for haircuts and shaves, but have been unsuccessful because some of the patron shops have held out for the old rates.

The shatterer in Alameda is Gus Bernal, proprietor of one of Alameda's four union barber shops, who yesterday declared that he will return to the old prices of 50 cents for a haircut and 25 cents for a shave Monday.

Bernal declared that since the June 1 prices of 65 cents for a haircut and 35 cents for a shave have been put into effect trade has fallen off tremendously, especially in the art of shaving.

He also declared that Alamedans are having their hair cut during business hours in San Francisco instead of at home, and that the greater portion of the trade still in Alameda is patronizing the city's fourteen non-union shops.

Barbers employed in shops in Alameda have lost money, too, according to Bernal, because patrons have adopted a non-tip policy as a means of protesting against increased prices.

Alameda's other three union barber shops are expected to follow gradually in Bernal's footsteps, although none of them has as yet announced an intention to reduce prices, and it is believed that the return to the old standard may spread from Alameda to Oakland and other East Bay cities.

Amendment Makes Serious Offense Of Workman's Law

An amendment to the act known as Assembly Bill No. 295, passed by the last session of the California legislature, signed by the governor and becoming effective on July 24, 1925, provides that it is a misdemeanor for an employer to fail to carry insurance or to otherwise secure the payment of compensation to injured employees, as provided by section No. 29, of the Workmen's Compensation Insurance law of this State.

Upon conviction the employer is subject to a fine of not more than $500, or by imprisonment of not more than six months, or by both fines and imprisonment, as the discretion of the court and jury may dictate.

It is further stipulated that the Industrial Accident commission has the power to require any employer to furnish a written statement at any time showing the name of his insurance carrier or the manner in which that particular employer has complied with the provisions of the act. Failure on the part of the employer to furnish such written statement within a period of ten days is made presumptive evidence that the employer has failed or neglected to comply with the law.

The state government is well aware of the fact that many employers, particularly those of small organization, have through carelessness or lack of foresight, failed to follow the requirements of the law. These should now realize that such failure is a most serious offense and punishable in a serious sort of way.

LEGION AUXILIARY - FOOD SALE HELD

DEATH THREAT IN FIGHT FOR GIRL CUSTODY

A threat of violence by eleven year old Irene Pereira is tangled in the skein of a quarrel for her custody that ended yesterday in a court hearing before Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado.

Joseph Silveria Pereira of San Jose, father of the girl, and Joseph and Gloria Silva of El Cerrito, aunt and uncle, with the girl, are the principals in a fight to gain custody of the child.

"If she is given back to her father she will kill herself," she has told us," Joseph Silva declared.

The pretty 11 year old girl gave acquiescence to her uncle's statement.

"I'll throw myself under an automobile before I'll go back," she asserted tearfully.

The child's mother died in January and since that time she has been in the custody of her uncle and aunt.

"A few days before she died my sister asked me to take Irene and raise her," Mrs. Silva declared. "My sister told me that the girl's father mistreated her."

Pereira, who recently filed a petition for habeas corpus is demanding that he be given custody of the girl and accuses the Silvas of keeping her from him. He denies that he mistreated his daughter and says he will provide her a good home.

A score of witnesses were on hand for examination in Judge Alvarado's court. Suggestion that the case be transferred to San Jose was made by Judge Alvarado and it is held likely that this might be agreed to by opposing counsel.

THAW OFFERS SERVICE TO 15 YEAR OLD BOY

Former Judge John M. Patterson, who successfully defended Harry K. Thaw in one of the most sensational trials in the history of Pennsylvania courts has offered his services to the defense attorneys to aid in attempting to prevent the electrocution of William Cavalier, 15 year old boy who was convicted of killing his grandmother.

Richmond Boys To Leave Camp

County Scout Executive J. E. George will remain at Camp Diablo for one more month, taking sole charge of the routine while there. Boys from all over the county will come for their vacations.

FIFTY KIDDIES ENTER SUNSHINE CAMP MONDAY

Fifty undernourished Contra Costa school children Monday will enter Sunshine Camp of the Contra Costa Public Health Association, located this year at the Shell Oil company pumping station in Marsh Creek Canyon. The children will be kept at the camp six weeks under careful supervision of nutrition experts and nurses.

J. P. Burnside, in charge of last year's Sunshine Camp in Redwood Canyon, will be in charge of the camp again this year. Mrs. Burnside, a graduate nurse, and Mrs. E. M. Koughan, of Berkeley, field worker and nutrition expert of the California State Dairy Council, will also be at the camp, and Miss Rachael Miller, county school nurse, will lend her aid. Miss Louise Ayer, Martinez school teacher, will conduct regular classes.

The children will be fed health building foods, will have organized play classes and will have sleeping quarters in three cabins donated by the oil company.

Favorably impressed by the excellent results that previous Sunshine Camps have shown the board of supervisors has authorized the health association to draw on the county for $1200.

Ten Richmond children will be at the camp.

Automobile men say that closed cars will soon be lower in price than open ones because the volume will be on them.

Accidents Exact Great Life Toll Injuring Twelve Million Yearly; Forty Auto Deaths Recorded Daily

Here are two pictures that tell eloquently the story of a problem of great concern to society.

A railroad crossing—a fast motor car—a faster train—the race and the smash-up with its tragic ending.

A street corner in a crowded city—the reckless turn—the approaching truck—a quick swerve into the street pillar of the elevated road and another life sacrificed.

What price speed? The experience of one insurance company should be an effective deterrent to any automobile driver who feels the urge to "step on it."

During the year 1924, death claims were submitted to the Prudential for payment in 2,154 instances where the fatality was directly due to automobile accidents. This was an average of six Prudential policyholders killed each day by automobiles. The figures for the entire country, insured and uninsured persons, show that forty persons in the United States die each day as the result of such mishaps.

Other accidents, most of them avoidable, exact a tremendous toll in human life, the Prudential statistics reveal, it still being true that they cause one death in each eleven or twelve. Congested traffic conditions are not alone responsible either, many of the fatalities occurring in the supposedly safe and secure haven of the home.

Not only do accidents of all kinds cause more than $7,000,000,000 annually, but they injure or disable twelve million persons each year, or at the amazing rate of twenty per minute. In 1924, there were 125,290 deaths among the 15,000,000 holders of Prudential industrial policies. Of these, 8,179, or about 6½ per cent, were accidental.

Seven hundred and sixty-six of the fatalities were the result of burns and scalds, chiefly accidents within the home. Nine hundred and seventy-two others were drowned, victims in many instances of vacation or outing tragedies. Railroad mishaps with fatal terminations totalled 677.

The same statistics disclose that about 5,000 persons are killed and 50,000 injured each year in fires.

But the automobile, carelessly handled, continues to be the greatest "threat" and it is with a view to eliminating the hazards involved that authorities continue to study the problem.

A scrap book for your child's birthday gift will be pleasing. Use cardboard for covers, cut to size you want. Then cut two pieces of heavy paper of a pleasing color an inch wider and longer than cardboards. Lay cardboard on the paper and fold the paper evenly over cardboard. Glue paper to cardboard with the best quality liquid glue. Cut two more pieces of the paper one-half inch smaller than cardboard and glue these on cardboard for the inside covers. Punch three holes in the back of each cover and punch corresponding holes in the paper for the pages. Lace the covers and pages together with tape. Decorate by gluing Mother Goose pictures on covers; use pretty pictures cut of wall paper, cretonne or a child's book.

TUBERCULOSIS OVERCOME

Oakland, Calif., April 28, 1925.
For about three years I suffered from a bad cough and sore chest. I tried many doctors, all of whom pronounced my case Tuberculosis. My spit was examined and showed tubercular germs. As I found no improvement from any of the treatments that I took, I decided to give the FONG WAN HERBS a test as a last resort. After having drunk the herbs for four months, I was a well woman and had gained in weight. A year has elapsed since I began to take the FONG WAN HERBS on April 16, 1924, and today, I am still well and have no sign of my former complaints.
